

Anixter's Information Blast

Anixter Pentacon and Anixter Eurofast are now Anixter Aerospace Hardware

We are pleased to announce that effective immediately Anixter Pentacon and Anixter Eurofast are united under a single company brand: Anixter Aerospace Hardware. The Anixter name brings a reputation for best-in-class products, industry-leading technical expertise and innovative supply chain solutions. By unifying under a strong, unchanging brand identity, we are simplifying the way we do business with our customers and suppliers.

We are rolling out a brand new Web site—anixter.com/aerospace—as a resource for you to learn more about how we do business. Our new online customer portal will give you access to an enhanced version of our popular StockCheck tool that will more directly align you with your sales support team. We will be rolling out new features to the portal in the coming months, which will allow us to serve you better and more completely.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why are you changing your name?

Because we previously operated as two companies, we feel it is important to present ourselves as a unified organization. As an international provider of products and Supply Chain Services to the aerospace industry, we work hard to support our customers. This rebranding will be the final step to making us one unified company in operation and identity.

Who is Anixter?

Anixter is a leading global supplier of communications and security products, electrical and electronic wire and cable, fasteners and other small components. Anixter helps its customers specify solutions and make informed purchasing decisions around technology, applications and relevant standards. Throughout the world, Anixter provides innovative supply chain management services to reduce its customers' total cost of production and implementation.

How will this change affect me as a customer?

In future business dealings and contracts with Anixter Aerospace Hardware, you will see our new logo and company name. Our account numbers will remain the same, so any payments will go to the same accounts. Our invoices and shipments will come from the same facilities, just with a new logo and company name on them.

How will this change affect me as a supplier?

Our company remains a division of Anixter, and as a result, our contracts will continue, in effect, uninterrupted. Future contracts and other materials from us will have a new logo and company name, but money will be exchanged to and from the same accounts.

Is anything else changing about your company?

Actually, yes! We are launching our new READY!™ Material Management Services in conjunction with our rebranding. Anixter's READY! Material Management Services leverage our distribution and Supply Chain Services to help our customers optimize a just-in-time material management program in their production facilities. If we currently operate any kind of JIT or VMI program with your company, you will be seeing this brand as we continuously work to improve how we do business with our valued customers. As in the past, we will continue to leverage Anixter's global footprint and financial capabilities to bring the best possible experience to our customers.
